- No tickets or other issues were noted.

OLD BUSINESS

- The commission led a discussion on changes to the Belleville Electrical Ordinance. Many changes and corrections were made. Changes will be presented to the city attorney and brought before counsel.
- Electrical Inspector Ken Bassler presented to the commission a series of pictures and explanations of various violations found on jobs being constructed by James Hickman of Current Plus. These were the same jobs that were discussed with James during last month's commission meeting. Ken will fail these inspections tomorrow.

NEW BUSINESS

- The commission led a discussion on the adaptation of the current IECC. It was decided not to adapt the code at the present time. The commission was inquiring about Ken attending the 2015 Residential IECC seminar in Edwardsville next month and report back to the commission for further discussion.
- James Hickman of Current Plus will be given to April 30 to correct all violations found on the jobs previously noted. If they are not brought up to code at that time, James will be given a notice of suspension of his electrical license in the City of Belleville. A registered letter will be sent to him of the suspension. Per the ordinance he will have 10 days to present himself in front of the commission to discuss his suspension or revocation of his license.
